Traffic for the first half of 2011 looks very positive. The new service that began in the last quarter of 2009 will continue to add increased numbers. Spirit's new service to five cities began a few weeks ago. United/Continental will return in February with daily flights to Denver and Chicago. Vision Airlines begins service to Louisville in March.

On the international side, Condor returns in April, and we are pressing hard for year round service. Several other international cities are also being planned with announcements to come in the next few months.
